Where the results of an informal supplier or product research are insufficient, formal processes such as the Request for Information (RFI) or Request for Expression of Interest (REFEI) may be used to gather information if warranted. A response to an RFI or REFEI must not be used to pre-qualify a potential supplier and must not influence the chances of the participating suppliers from becoming the successful proponent in any subsequent procurement opportunity.
2. A Request for Supplier Qualification (RFSQ) may be conducted to gather information about supplier capabilities and qualifications in order to pre-qualify suppliers for an immediate product or service need or to identify qualified candidates in advance of expected future competitions. The terms and conditions of the RFSQ document must contain language that disclaims any obligation of Sensity to call on any supplier to provide goods or services as a result of the pre-qualification. This process can be used to develop a Vendor of Record list.
